Story Toolbox

Think about work situations, ideally in the last 5 years, that fall into the following categories. Write a phrase that will help trigger the memory of the story. You may find some stories fitting into multiple categories, that is okay. Come up with at least one unique story per category, and strive for two.

Tip: For some people, going category by category and being inspired by the prompts is easiest. For others, it's easier to list a bunch of stories, then fit them into categories and see where you are missing content. Feel out which way is better for you!*
